

Southern Trailers

Conditions of hire - Responsibilities of the person hiring the trailer

The person agrees to indemnify Southern Trailers from all loss and damage to the hire trailer.
The person hiring the trailer hereby undertakes to ensure that no-one else uses the trailer without Southern Trailer's permission.
The person hiring the trailer will at no time or in any respect hold Southern Trailers responsible for any personal injury or damage to their property or the property of anyone else whilst using the trailer.

Insurance and responsibility for lost, stolen or damaged trailers

The person hiring the trailer agrees to pay Southern Trailers the full replacement cost of any trailer that may be lost, stolen or damaged beyond economical repair, whilst in their charge. Cost will also include all loss of hire charges. The person must insure the trailer on this basis. Hire trailers must be returned during working hours. The trailer must not be left until, it has been inspected by a member of staff from Southern Trailers. The hirer is responsible for the trailer until it has been inspected.
We reserve the right to keep the deposit in full if the trailer is returned outside working hours.

The trailer goods are not insured by Southern Trailers whilst in your possession.

The trailer on hire will be used completely at the hire's own risk. This includes all moving parts: winches, cables, hooks, rack and pinion etc.
A returnable cash deposit is required before the start of the hire period. This will be £100.00 for use within the UK and £250.00 for continental use.
It is in your own interest to examine the trailer before leaving our premises, as we reserve the right to charge an approximate amount to cover any damage, which includes punctures.
A days hire is between 8.30am to 5.00pm on said day.

I agree to abide by these conditions.
